Hi guys! Welcome to my website!

I'm just a momma and wife who loves to cook for her family. The most important part is spending time with them. Life can be so busy at times. My goal for my page is to give you amazing recipes that you can make in little time and have that sit down dinner with your family. Whether you are a single parent, college student, or a mom and dad with a full time job, you will find recipes on my page that take little time to prepare, and will give you that family time. I'm not a page where I copy and paste pictures from Google.

I've loved to cook from a young age and make my cooking fun! The good Lord has given me the love for cooking and I want to share it all with you! I love to make new things and also make our "family" favorites recipes that has been passed down our family for years. Sit down dinners with my family is so important!!

I also completed my very own cookbook in May 2013. Over 3,000 sold in the first year, and many happy fans. Thank you all for the love and support all these years. I'm so grateful.
